Approval of your product access request

Your request for access to products/categories (ProMapper
) has been accepted.

Click here to go to documentation.

- And after following the link, you'll be asked to log in:
 1. If you have a Microsoft account:
When a person with a Microsoft account wants to access the content, SharePoint will ask you to sign in to your account and ask whether to accept or reject the authorization rules.

NOTE

In some cases the recipient may need to follow the steps above and provide a secret code instead of signing in.

2. If you don't have a Microsoft account
To access the content, SharePoint will send a one-time secret code to your email address to verify your identity:

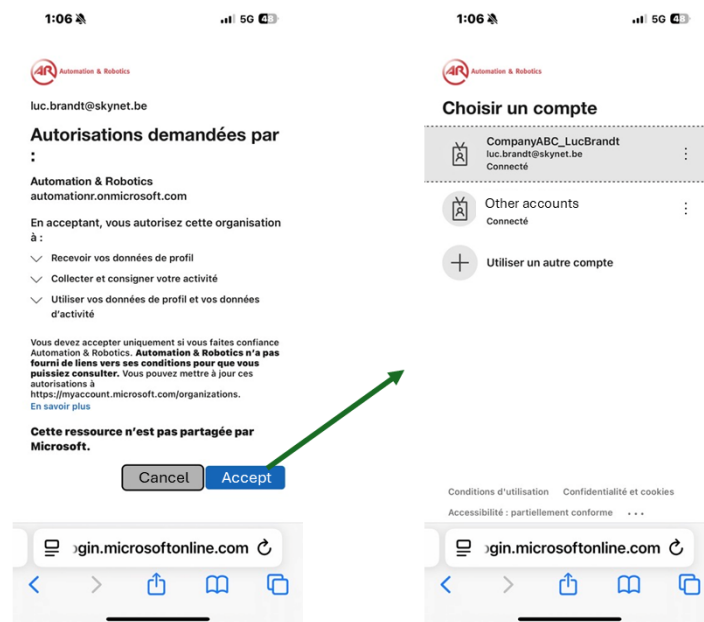

After receiving the code, you enter the verification screen to open the file.

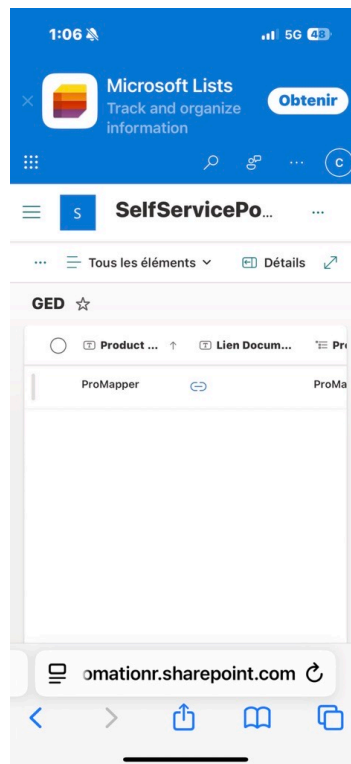

The content is secure, and the link will not work if it's forwarded to others; it only works for the individuals you specified during sharing.

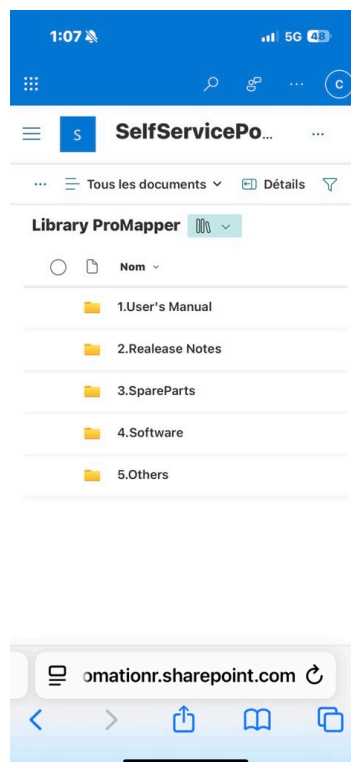

After authentication, there is one more agreement to be accepted, then you'll be invited to connect with the newly created account :

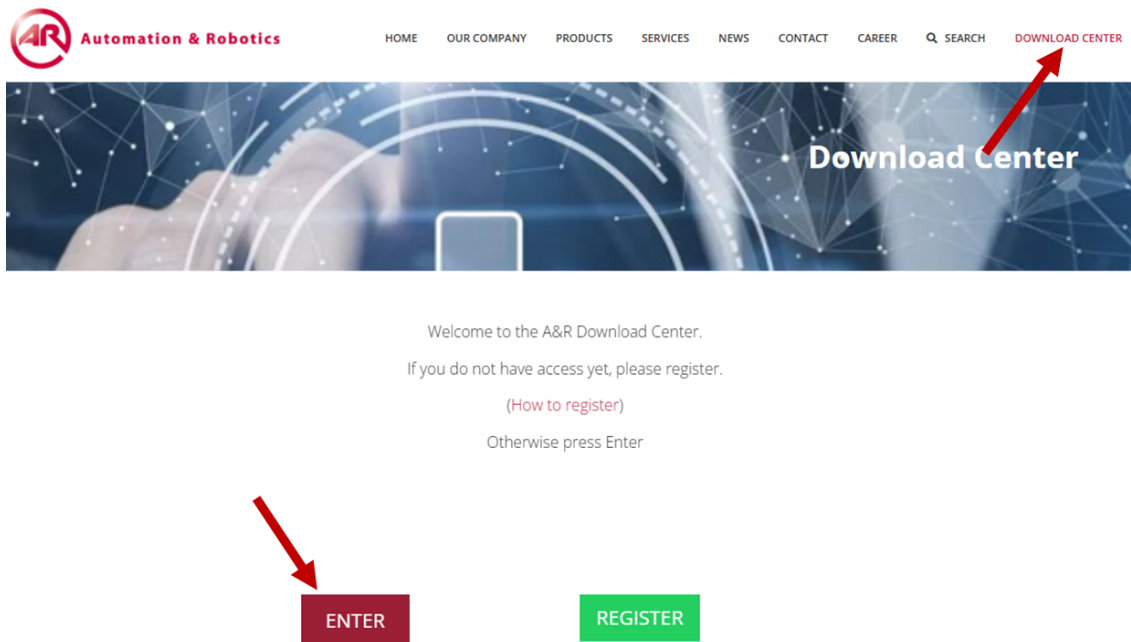

- After one of the two previous connection options, you'll land on the following page, corresponding to your initial product documentation inquiry.

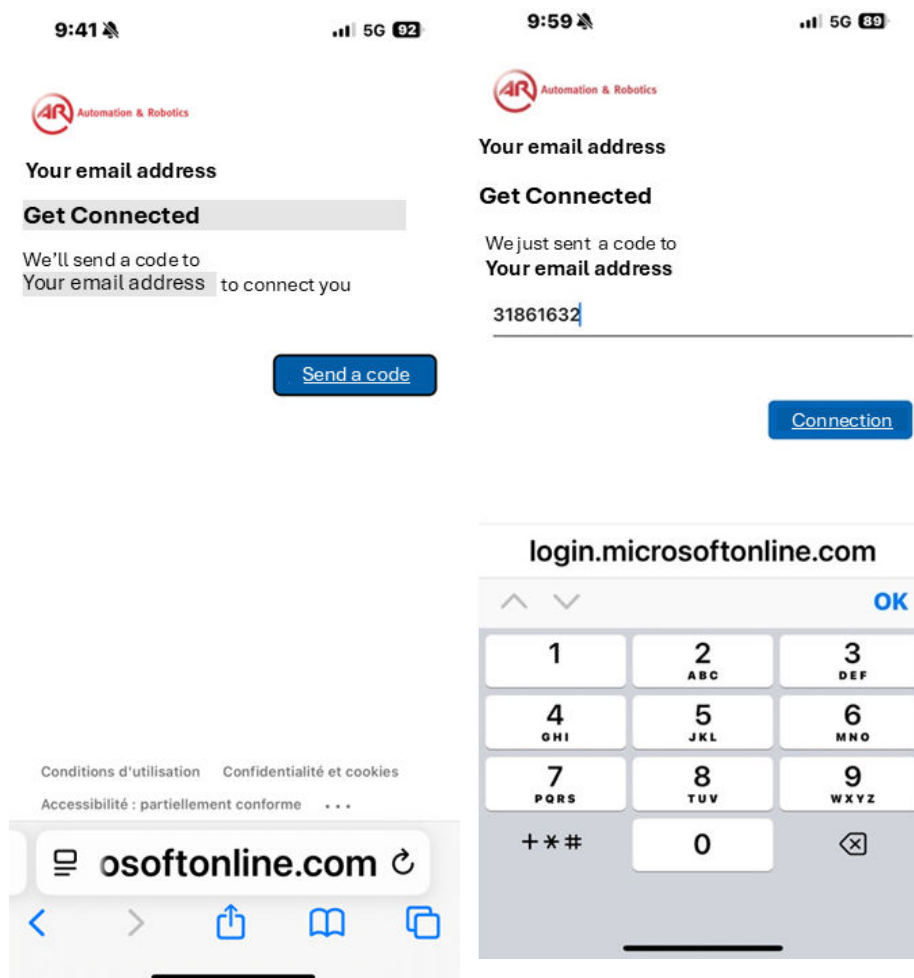

- When clicking on  just behind the selected product name (ProMapper in the above -root- view), this will display the next folder structure, enabling access to the multiple folder contents.

- To access the documents for later sessions, or when disconnected: just visit the www.ar.be website and click ENTER.

- The following invite enables account selection :

- The screen below shows the list of products you've been given access to. The sub folders can be accessed by clicking :
